

The diagram illustrates a hierarchical structure, likely representing a family tree or organizational chart. It consists of several rectangular boxes connected by lines. On the right side, there are two labels: "Antolík, Chobot" and "Bagar, Augustín".

The structure is as follows:

- At the top left, there is a large rectangle. A line extends from its right side to a vertical line.
- Below this, there is another large rectangle. A line extends from its right side to the same vertical line.
- Further down, there is a third large rectangle. A line extends from its right side to the same vertical line.
- At the bottom left, there is a fourth large rectangle. A line extends from its right side to the same vertical line.
- On the right side, there are two horizontal lines. The top one is labeled "Antolík, Chobot" and the bottom one is labeled "Bagar, Augustín".
